AIDS Cure Day 2013

October 4, 2013

Saturday, October 5, is the first AIDS Cure Day. Launched by the AIDS Policy Project (APP), this new annual awareness day advocates for an HIV cure in this generation. APP will mark the day by organizing teach-ins and encouraging others to do so. The goal is to spread the word about the state of cure research, as well as cure activism. Teaching materials and images for Facebook and Twitter are all available for download.
