“HIV is Still a Big Deal” in Spanish [VIDEOS]

August 4, 2009 By Oriol R. Gutierrez Jr.

“HIV is Still a Big Deal” is a series of web videos that discuss HIV prevention and safer sex for men who have sex with men.

The first episode in 2006 covered safer sex and disclosure of HIV status. The second episode in 2008 covered HIV testing. A third video is being planned.

They recently subtitled the two current episodes in Spanish. I would’ve liked more information on the actual transmission risks, but these videos do a good job at making you think.
