Die Another Day

October 2, 2014 By Oriol R. Gutierrez Jr.

The October/November 2014 issue of POZ magazine is online, in which we explore pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP) to prevent HIV transmission.

Here's an excerpt from my editor's letter:

Our PrEP cover story dives deep into the controversy. We also explore the effect of PrEP on gay men, but our goal is to broaden the conversation.

As the article makes clear, PrEP isn't a silver bullet. So what is it? We look at all the arguments and then attempt to answer this question: Can personal choice and public health find common ground in PrEP?

As for me, I admit that my opinions about PrEP have evolved ...
