John Hughes 1950-2009

August 7, 2009 By Shawn Decker

“Life moves pretty fast. You don’t stop and look around once in a while, you could miss it.” - Ferris Bueller

John Hughes died of a heart attack yesterday at the age of 59. I’m going to write about his artistic imprint on my own life in the next blog entry. Right now, I’m going to bed to watch one of his movies with Gwenn.

Thanks for the laughs, John.

Positively Yours,
Shawn
