Meet The Super Delegates

February 5, 2008 By Shawn Decker

Have you heard about these "superdelegates"? They have a lot of pull, and could really tip the balance in who gets the nomination in each party.

I'll break it down for you.

In each state, one person- a very powerful person- gets "Super Delegate" status. You probably haven't heard about any of this, because it is all kept very quiet, for national security/citizen safety issues. I'm risking my health by revealing these superdelegates for the first time. And you could be risking yours by reading this blog, and gaining access to this delicate information.

CALIFORNIA!

ALASKA!

NEW MEXICO!

NEW JERSEY!

MONTANA! (A child for God’s sake!)

These are very powerful people. If you don’t see me blogging for awhile, you will know that Super Delegate justice hath been served upon thee...

Positively Yours,

Shawn
