VLOG: Gwenn Gets Tested For HIV

June 25, 2013 By Shawn Decker

This Thursday is National HIV Testing Day. Gwenn had the idea of getting herself tested for this week's video to honor the occasion and to promote knowing your status. With the help of AIDS Services Group here in Charlottesville, she did just that. Big thanks to Jason Elliott to being a part of this! If you've been putting off an HIV test or have never been tested before, I hope you consider doing it. To find a testing center near you click here.

Positively Yours,
Shawn
