Malaysian Police Recover 700,000 Condoms Worth $1.5M

March 22, 2011

Malaysian police have recovered 700,000 condoms worth about $1.5 million that were stolen en route to Japan two months ago, The Associated Press (AP) reports. Police arrested six suspects who face 10 years in prison if they are convicted. The suspects worked for the company responsible for shipping the condoms and were storing the condoms in warehouses and homes hoping to eventually selling them.
