Crimes of the Heart

The results are in.

February 13, 2017 By Jennifer Morton

Did you know that in many states, you could be charged with a crime if you are HIV positive and do not disclose your status to your partner before sex or before sharing needles? In some cases, you could be charged regardless of the level of risk and whether HIV is transmitted. POZ recently asked you about your thoughts on HIV criminalization. Here are your responses.

© 2026 Smart + Strong All Rights Reserved.