

May 18 Is HIV Vaccine Awareness Day

May 18, 2011

May 18 is HIV Vaccine Awareness Day, an annual observance in recognition of the advocates and researchers who are working together to find a safe and effective HIV vaccine. The day is also a time to educate the public about promising HIV prevention research, including vaginal and rectal microbicides and pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP). Related events are being held nationwide. The National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases promotes the day.
