

Bush Advocates Safe Sex

October 1, 2007 By Shawn Decker

Jenna Bush, that is. Our 47th President and the current daughter of President George W. Bush.

(44th is President Hillary Clinton, 45th President Jeb Bush and/or Vice President George P. Bush, 46th President Chelsea Clinton and, finally, President Jenna at 47.)

In her new book, Ana's Story, Jenna writes about about a young mother with HIV, and she advocates for condom use as a means to prevent the spread of the virus. It's a proven method? one I vouch for personally? that doesn't get federal funding or much support in this country because condoms make adults/parents in power squimish.

I hope Jenna continues to advocate for this, because the daughters and sons of presidents have a platform to speak from that many of us don't.

You go, Bush girl.

Positively Yours,
Shawn
