Condom Challenge Criticism

We've seen a lot in our time, but seeing this on dlisted.com made us gag:

In a week, this video has received more than 1 million views on YouTube.

The video has already gone viral with copycats and responses, etc.

Teens do crazy things, but this trend takes things to a very strange place.

Whether you think it's gross or funny (or both), let's agree it's dangerous.

If this were raising awareness about safer sex, we'd be a bit happier.

But it's not.

UPDATE: YouTube has apparently taken the video down. For the record, the video was of a teen girl sticking a condom up her nose and down her throat, then pulling it out of her mouth.
