Labtest Contest IX: Win A Rise Above HIV Shirt!

January 28, 2013 By Shawn Decker

It’s that time again- time to guess my t-cell count for the chance to win a fabulous prize! So what is the prize this time around? It is a Rise Above HIV t-shirt, designed by my friend and Synthetic Division bandmate, Josh D’Elia, and modeled by my lovely partner, Gwenn, below...

This time around everyone is up against the first champion to ever guess the exact count, Scott Anderson. He is someone I've known since we were teenagers and he is a steadfast competitor who has no intentions of being a one-time champion. Feeling lucky to take him down? Then take a guess for a chance to win! Post your guess on my Poz blog Comments section- see the official rules below.

Good luck!

Positively Yours,
Shawn
