

National HIV Day of Action: Fight the #TrumpTaxScam

Your health care—and much more—is at stake. Here's how you can save it.

November 27, 2017 By PWN-USA

On November 16th, the House voted and passed their “tax reform” bill. The Senate Republicans are expected to push their bill through in the coming week, likely putting it to a vote by the night of November 30th. Don't fall for the #TrumpTaxScam!

Both the House and Senate versions of the bill would cut billions in funding for programs that benefit people who are working and middle-class, living in high-tax rate states, have pre-existing conditions, and who use safety net programs, like Medicaid and SNAP (food stamps). Republicans are pushing these cuts to fund tax breaks for corporations and the ultra-wealthy.

What's at Stake

1. Healthcare. As part of the Republican administration's attempt to dismantle affordable healthcare coverage, the Senate tax bill eliminates the individual mandate of the ACA. The mandate requires that people have health insurance coverage or face a penalty. Without it, millions of people will drop out from the insurance market, destabilizing it and driving up the price of premiums for everyone else including people with pre-existing conditions. An estimated 13 million people would lose coverage by 2027 under this bill.
2. Everything else we depend on! The House tax bill would cut $25 billion from Medicare in 2018, with an additional $5.8 trillion in cuts over the next ten years to Medicare, Medicaid, and Social Security.

How will the Tax Bill affect our communities?

- The tax bill hurts middle and low income communities, while benefiting the wealthiest individuals and corporations.
- The Senate version of the tax bill repeals the individual mandate of the Affordable Care Act. This is not in the House version of the tax bill.

- The House tax bill will lead to massive cuts in federal spending, including a projected $28 billion cut to Medicare in fiscal year 2018. Over the next 10 years, it includes $1.3 trillion in cuts to Medicaid, on which 44% of people living with HIV rely.
- Women and families across the country would be penalized by the elimination of critical tax benefits that support millions of people and their families (information provided from National Women's Law Center and the National Partnership for Women and Families)
 - The House tax bill would eliminate the deduction for medical expenses, jeopardizing the financial security of people who have serious medical conditions and their families, as well as seniors in need of long-term care
 - The House tax bill actually cuts existing tax benefits for child care. The bill would eliminate child care tax benefits for families, including the exclusion of Dependent Care Assistance Plans (DCAPs) from income, beginning in 2023. Additionally, the tax bill eliminates the tax credit for employers that offer child care benefits to their employees, effective immediately.
 - The Senate tax bill would completely eliminate the deduction for state and local taxes. Eliminating this tax benefit would not only raise taxes for millions of women and families, but it would also make it more difficult for states and localities to sustain the tax rates necessary to fund essential public services and maintain the jobs of public sector employees, the majority of whom are women and a substantial share of whom are people of color.
 - Both tax bills add a new requirement of providing a Social Security Number for each child claimed for the refundable portion of the Child Tax Credit (CTC)—which could exclude a significant number of children in immigrant families while immediately making families with six-figure incomes eligible to claim the CTC.
