New iPhone version (3.2.3) iStayHealthy/iPhone

March 2, 2013 By iStayHealthy

Apple approved and made a new version of iStayHealthy for iPhone available on iTunes last night. Version 3.2.3 is a maintenance release:

- There was a problem with storing emergency phone numbers which is now fixed.
- Another issue with saving an alert with no alert label was fixed
- More importantly, I made the viral load entry in the Add/Edit Results views a bit more obvious.
- Password handling was made safer.

A couple of notes for users who are upgrading: if you had a password set prior to upgrade you will need to reset it once again. This was the best way to migrate to the safer password handling.
