

NLAAN Survey Wants You

September 8, 2010 By Oriol R. Gutierrez Jr.

The National Latino AIDS Action Network (NLAAN), which advocates for Latino HIV/AIDS issues, has developed a brief survey to understand how the national HIV/AIDS strategy and health care reform may affect Latinos. ✖

NLAAN would like to have preliminary results available to share at the 2010 United States Conference on AIDS, which starts Sunday, September 12, in Orlando.

As a result, NLAAN is asking for people to complete the survey by 5 p.m. Eastern time on Friday, September 10. You do not have to be Latino to participate, but everyone completing the survey should work with and care for Latino communities.

Go to <http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/NLAANsurvey> to complete the survey.
