December 14, 2015 By POZ Staff

This year, World AIDS Day--a day dedicated to raising HIV/AIDS awareness and remembering those lost to the disease--landed on the same day as Giving Tuesday--a day dedicated to giving back. Keep that spirit alive this holiday with these gift ideas that raise awareness and give back to organizations that fight HIV/AIDS.

This bow tie not only raises awareness for HIV/AIDS, but also raises funds for the important work that EGPAF does around the globe.

PLUS...

On World AIDS Day, ONE and (RED) hosted an night of music at Carnegie Hall, titled "It Always Seems Impossible Until It's Done." The event included performances by U2's Bono and The Edge, Miley Cyrus, Jessie J, and Hozier, and highlighted the accomplishments made thus far in the fight against HIV/AIDS. It also served as a reminder that the work is not done, but it's clear we have the science and the tools to end the epidemic.

After the concert, Bono appeared on Jimmy Kimmel Live! to kick off the first-ever (SHOPATHON) RED--a shopping extravaganza co-produced by VICE Media that raises money for The Global Fund. The Shopathon offers once-in-a-lifetime experiences with celebrity guests, including:

- Ride bikes with Bono and get ice cream in Central Park
- Watch filming and meet some of the cast on the set of Game of Thrones
- Join Snoop for the "Merry Jane Wellness Retreat" in Colorado
- Meet George Clooney and get complimented by him for 45 seconds

- Have Shaq be in your holiday card
- Get glammed up with Kim Kardashian and her glam squad
- Meet Meryl Streep on the red carpet

Each $10 donation gives you 100 chances to win one of the experiences. Larger donations give you more chances to win, plus other rewards. The deadline for most of the experiences is January 21. Visit omaze.com/red to enter and for more information. Support (RED) this holiday season and you just might end up making someone's dream come true--as well as help save a lot of lives!
