Rethinking the 4th of July

July 4, 2008 By Shawn Decker

For most folks, the 4th of July is all about putting on your favorite pair of jean shorts, getting drunk, setting off fireworks and getting laid.

For me the 4th is all about the pranks. This time of year, fireworks are cheap and plentiful, and nothing spooks a person quite like a loud noise and a blaze of fire. The following educational video has made me rethink my plans for the day.

Positively Yours,

Shawn

PS... does anyone know how I can get that voice-over gig?

© 2026 Smart + Strong All Rights Reserved.