Sad

January 23, 2009 By Paul Dalton

I learned this morning that Martin Delaney, the founder of Project Inform passed away earlier today. I have written about Marty and his contributions to the fight against HIV several times on this blog. Today I just want to say that the world and our struggle has lost an important, powerful and committed fighter. Marty will be missed.

© 2026 Smart + Strong All Rights Reserved.