Sinusitissimo Redux

November 10, 2010 By David Capogna

You already know about my sinus drama since my last blog Sinusitissimo. The MRSA infection has ended along with antibiotics. I still have Kleenex throughout my apartment because I'm constantly congested. I love interior design and thought I should share with you a photo series called "Still Life with Boutique Tissue Boxes." Sometimes I do have a positive attitude about having AIDS. So go ahead and pass the tissues, because we all have issues. Hee hee!!!
