Snowsquatch is Coming...

February 5, 2010 By Shawn Decker

Everyone is afraid of the snow, but I'm afraid of something else.

I made this back in 2003, looks like "next winter" finally arrived. Be safe, and remember that Mother Nature is formidable, but scared humans will always be our biggest threat to survival. Outside of objects falling from outer space that we have no concept of understanding.

Yes, that's a prelude to my next movie trailer. Since I'm snowed in I'm gonna be launching these old trailers all weekend long. Hope you stocked up on popcorn if you're in the snow zone.

Positively Yours,
Shawn
