Synthetic Division National Tour

March 15, 2008 By Shawn Decker

OK, so it’s not really a national tour. It doesn’t span 21 cities and I won’t be traveling in a van, I’ll be flying out using Reward Miles.

Also, as you can see it’s two dates- in Virginia and California- one month apart. But hey, cut me some slack, that’s how people with AIDS tour.

And speaking of positoids… support Gwenn and I in the upcoming AIDS Walk NY! Since I announced our fundraising attempts, young Eric Cartman of South Park has tested positive for HIV. Surprising, since I always thought Kenny was the most at-risk of the gang.
