Synthetic Division Returns

May 26, 2008 By Shawn Decker

This Saturday, Marshall and I are playing a Synthetic Division show at Outback Lodge. Then on Saturday, June 7, we will be playing at Midnight in DC. Yes, the neon sign will be at both shows.

In My Pet Virus, I wrote about C'ville's weekly goth/industrial night, The Dawning, and how Bella Morte helped set up my first show there back in '99. Since then, the Dawning has moved around a bit, and this weekend will be the last of the weekly Dawning shows at the Outback, until they find another home.

So come out, and help us, along with Myotis from Richmond and DJ Rift, give the night a nice send-off.

Positively Yours,

Shawn

© 2026 Smart + Strong All Rights Reserved.