

The War on Blowjobs & Ken 'The Cooch' Cuccinelli

November 4, 2013 By Shawn Decker

This Tuesday (tomorrow) my home state of Virginia is hosting an intriguing race for Governor, pitting the sitting Attorney General, Ken "The Cooch" Cuccinelli against Terry McAuliffe.

I'm voting for McAuliffe. To be honest, The Cooch scares the hell out of me. He is in favor of keeping "crimes against nature" laws on the books, making sexual acts such as blowjobs and buttfucking illegal. In addition to those pressing issues- which he claims are ways to further punish sex offenders- he also believes that any woman who is raped should be required by law to give birth.

One of Ken's first acts after being elected as Attorney General was to send out a letter to every college and university in the state of Virginia, informing them to simply ignore any pressure to not fire someone based on their sexual orientation.

In the letter he wrote:

"It is my advice that the law and public policy of the Commonwealth of Virginia prohibit a college or university from including 'sexual orientation,' 'gender identity,' 'gender expression,' or like classification as a protected class within its non-discrimination policy absent specific authorization from the General Assembly."

Ken Cuccinelli comes across as the kind of guy who is one Science Fair mishap or bizarre lightning storm away from being transformed into Spider-Man's next arch nemesis. The more power he gets, the rougher things are going to be. He's had a good run, but it's time to band together and stop him. If you live in Virginia, or have friends who do, please make them aware of how important this election is.

Positively Yours,
Shawn
