TODAY: National Call-In Day to Fund Domestic HIV Programs

April 5, 2011 By Shawn Decker

Today is the day- make a quick call to your representatives to urge them to continue funding HIV/AIDS programs in the United States. Whether you are a democrat or a republican, these programs are necessary to insure the safety of our fellow Americans who are living with HIV. Without them, we run the the risk of losing more people to AIDS... and, really, haven't we lost enough?

Click here to find out who to call, and what to say- it's easy, and it matters.

Positively Yours,
Shawn
