

How to Watch the Presidential HIV Advisory Meeting August 28 & 29

The Presidential Advisory Council on HIV/AIDS (PACHA) will meet virtually. Topics include U=U and the U.S. global HIV response.

August 27, 2024 By HIV.gov

The Presidential Advisory Council on HIV/AIDS (PACHA) will convene virtually Wednesday and Thursday, August 28 and 29, 2024, from 1:00 PM – 5:30 PM (ET) both days. You can view the meeting livestream online at www.hhs.gov/live.

The next Presidential Advisory Council on HIV/AIDS (#PACHA) meeting is taking place next week on August 28 & 29. The...

Posted by HIV.gov on Wednesday, August 21, 2024

The topics being discussed include the U.S. Government's global HIV response, the science and impact of "Undetectable = Untransmittable" or U = U, and more. View the agenda at HIV.gov's About PACHA page.

The meeting is open to the public and there will be a public comment and community engagement session during the meeting. The required pre-registration for providing public comment is closed. If you would like to provide public comment but did not pre-register, you may submit your written statement by emailing PACHA@hhs.gov by close of business Thursday, September 5, 2024.

This blog post was published August 27, 2024, on HIV.gov.
